RetailFlow

the merchandise solution for retail

the merchandise solution for nearly 15.000 stores across Europe

- no lost sales • complete EDI integration • ultimate control over merchandise processes • improved efficiency and profitability • focus on customer and service

As retailer you know the importance of information about styles, colours and sizes. A large number of retailers are therefore working with the merchandise solution from Unisoft. RetailFlow is the solution that handles all daily merchandise processes in a user friendly way. With RetailFlow you have ultimate control over your merchandise processes and therefore will improve the efficiency and profitability of your organization.

No lost sales

Based on either sales per store or minimum stock levels (or indeed a combination of these two elements), automatic reordering will provide you with an efficient tool to maintain the optimum stock levels and prevent you from being out of stock again, lost sales and it saves you valuable time. You can automatically create orders, which then are returned to the corresponding supplier.

Full EDI integration

RetailFlow delivers full EDI (Electronic Data Interchange) functionality such as creating, communicating and processing of EDI messages. Lost sales belong to the past with EDI. In addition, a part of the administration is automated thus saving you valuable time. By using EDI you will gain the following advantages:

- Direct access to the complete product range of your suppliers
- Preventing errors
- Order processing is automated, saving you time
- Optimize range and order pattern
- Higher margins by ordering via EDI

Flexible architecture and article coding

Each company is different. RetailFlow can be adjusted to every retailer's needs due to its flexible structure. RetailFlow has a convenient pull-down menu structure and is very user friendly due to its help functions. RetailFlow can be easily integrated with external applications such as financial packages. Besides the in-house used article coding you can also use the standard EAN codes supplied by suppliers. This saves you money, makes you order more efficiently and identify unique articles.
